-  LABELS:

French sea bass and gilt-head sea bream leader, Aquanord produces 1,800 tons of fish per year that comply with rigorous standards of quality. Each Aquanord fish is aged between 2 and 4 years old, based on sale size of between 200 g and 2 kg. It is fished to order and meticulously calibrated. It is then put into 5 or 10 kg crates in one of Europe's most modern packaging facilities, where product freshness and traceability are guaranteed. The farm enjoys a privileged position in Europe: located at 30 km from the Channel Tunnel and within close proximity to the motorway network leading to major French and European cities. Down through the years, it has benefited from the vitality of France's largest aquaculture research cluster, located in the north of the country.
